

END USER LICENSE AGREEMENT

1. AGREEMENT

This is an agreement between you, the purchaser and licensee, and Abstract Office, the supplier. By purchasing, downloading, installing, using, or otherwise handling the digital typeface software (hereafter “fonts” or “font software”) supplied by Abstract Office, you accept the terms of this agreement. In accepting the terms of this agreement, you acknowledge understanding and complying with its terms. This agreement replaces and supersedes any previously made oral or written proposal or agreement between you and Abstract Office.

2. LICENSE GRANT

You are purchasing a license to use the fonts on the number of computers specified in your purchase receipt. You are not purchasing the copyright to the design or any other part of the fonts, but rather the rights to use the fonts as specified in this agreement.

3. LICENSEE & CLIENT USE

At the time of purchase, you designate the license as covering one of the following two scenarios:

- 3.1 Personal / In-House Use. The license covers use of the fonts by you or your organization solely for your own projects, communications, and commercial output.
- 3.2 Client Use. The license covers use of the fonts on behalf of a single named client. All permitted uses described in this agreement apply to that client’s projects and commercial output. You may install and use the fonts for the duration of work performed for that client. Once the engagement concludes, the fonts must be deleted from any devices used exclusively for that engagement unless a separate license is obtained.

4. SCOPE OF USE

Subject to the seat limit in Section 5, your license permits use of the fonts across all of the following:

- 4.1 Desktop & Print. Installation on computers for design, layout, and print production, including embedding in PDF, PostScript (PS), and Encapsulated PostScript (EPS) documents, provided the font is secured against unlicensed third-party extraction.
- 4.2 Web. Embedding in websites and web-based applications. The fonts must be hosted on a secure server and served in a read-only, protected manner. You must take all reasonable steps to prevent unauthorized access or extraction by third parties.
- 4.3 Applications & Software. Embedding in mobile applications, desktop applications, and other software products.
- 4.4 Electronic Publications (ePub). Embedding in electronic books, digital magazines, or other ePub-format publications.
- 4.5 Broadcast & Video. Use in video production, motion graphics, broadcast content, streaming media, and similar audiovisual works.

5. SEAT LIMIT

The fonts may be installed and actively used on the number of computers specified in your purchase receipt (hereafter “licensed seats”). You may make archival copies of the font software on an additional device solely for backup purposes; archival copies do not count toward your seat limit and may not be used for active work.

- 5.1 Server Use. If the fonts are installed on or accessed through a server — including web servers, render servers, CI/CD pipelines, or any shared infrastructure — the number of licensed seats must cover the total number of computers that access the server at the time of purchase. You may expand your license to accommodate additional computers by purchasing additional seats.
- 5.2 Third-Party Service Providers. You may provide a copy of the font software to a commercial printer, service bureau, developer, or other contractor for the purpose of completing a defined project within the scope of this license. Once the project is complete, the contractor must delete all copies of the font software from their systems.

6. RESTRICTIONS

6.1 Redistribution. Re-selling, lending, sublicensing, or hiring out the font software in any form is strictly prohibited.

6.2 Modification. You may not modify, convert, adapt, decompile, reverse engineer, or create derivative works of the fonts without the prior written consent of Abstract Office.

6.3 Public Storage. The fonts may not be stored or made available in any manner that permits access by the general public or unauthorized third parties, except as expressly provided for in the protected embedding uses described in Section 4.

6.4 Political Use. Use of the font software to create or publish any form of political campaign material, or any public use by political parties, political organizations, lobbying institutions, think tanks, action committees, or similar entities (including use for political branding or design purposes) is subject to prior written request to and agreement by Abstract Office. Abstract Office may refuse such a request at its sole discretion without obligation to explain the refusal. The absence of any reply within a reasonable time is equivalent to a refusal.

7. TERMINATION

Any breach of the terms of this agreement immediately terminates your license to use the fonts. Upon termination, you must destroy all copies of the font software in your possession, including archival copies.

8. RESERVED RIGHTS

Any and all rights not expressly granted in this agreement are reserved to Abstract Office.

9. LIMITED WARRANTY & DISCLAIMER OF LIABILITY

Abstract Office will, at its sole discretion, either replace the font software or refund the license fee in the event the font software does not perform substantially in accordance with the documentation, provided that any such claim is submitted within thirty (30) days of purchase. You expressly acknowledge and agree that use of the font software is at your sole risk. The font software and related documentation are provided "AS IS" and, except as noted herein, without warranty of any kind. Abstract Office expressly disclaims all warranties, express and implied, including but not limited to the implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. Abstract Office does not represent or warrant that the operation of the font software will be uninterrupted or error-free, or that the font software is free from defects.

Under no circumstances shall Abstract Office be liable to you or any other party, whether in contract, tort (including negligence), or otherwise, for any special, consequential, or incidental damages, including lost profits, savings, or business interruption arising from the use of the font software, even if notified in advance of such possibility. In no event shall any liability of Abstract Office exceed the purchase price of the license or the replacement of the font software, either at Abstract Office's sole discretion.
